Civil Society Organization (CSO) – refers to a non-state and non-profit association that works to improve society and the human condition. Basic types of CSOs include non-governmental organizations, people’s organizations, civic organizations, cooperatives, social movements, professional groups, business groups, and people’s councils.

Non-Governmental Organization – refers to a non-stock, non-profit organization that works with different sectors and communities, promoting their general welfare and development, providing a wide range of services for people’s organizations, foundations, and independent research institutions fall in this category.

People’s Organization – refers to an independent, bonafide association of citizens with demonstrated capacity to promote public interest and with an identifiable leadership, membership and structure. People’s organizations are often formed among the disadvantaged sectors of society such as the farmer-peasant, artisanal fisherfolk, workers in the formal sector and migrant workers, workers in the informal sector, indigenous people and cultural communities, women, persons with disabilities, senior citizens, victims of calamities and disasters, youth and students, children, and urban poor.

Civic Organization – refers to any local service club, fraternal society or association, volunteer group, or local civic league or association, volunteer group, or local civic league or association not organized for profit but operated exclusively for educational or charitable purposes, including the promotion of community welfare, and the net earnings of which are devoted exclusively to charitable, educational, recreational or social welfare purposes.

Cooperative – refers to an autonomous and duly registered association of persons with a common bond of interests who have voluntarily joined together to achieve their social, economic, and cultural needs and aspirations and making equitable contributions to the capital required, patronizing their products and services and accepting a fair share of risks and benefits of the undertaking in accordance with the universally accepted cooperative principles.

Social Movement – refers to a large informal grouping of individuals or organizations that aims to affect social change through sustained, organized and collective action. Some social movements are not permanent institutions but instead tend to coalesce, pursue their aims, and then dissolve. Religious movements and church-based organizations are included in this category.

Professional Group – refers to a duly incorporated non-stock corporation of registered professionals established for the benefit and welfare of the professionals of one discipline, for the advancement of the profession itself and for the other professional ends.

Business Group – refers to a non-stock corporation composed of businesses in the same industry established to pursue the interest of the industry. Chambers of commerce and industry associations fall in this category.

People’s Council – refers to a body composed of representatives from CSOs that may identify their principal and alternate representatives in various local government councils, committees, task forces or special bodies where they sit as members, depending on the sangguniang resolution or ordinance recognizing the People’s Council and stating its rights and privileges.
